The state of society in the cities of the middle and southern states, judging from the amount and character of crime committed, is really deplorable—murders, as-sault and battery, thefts, &c. &c. occur in such quick succession, that the police are continually busy, and the newspapers filled with their recital. The Philadelphia Saturday Courier says-" It seems to us we are verging upon an awful preponderance of crime! Murders are of so common occurrence, as to excite no particular alarm. We count no less than four murders, and some attempts at murder in Philadelphia, during the week ending on the 10th of September. A stranger was shot down in the broad light of day, when people were passing within a short distance in every direction—the assassin escaped. A young man by the name of Koehler, was mardered, whilst walking a public street with a young lady on his arm—the assassin escaped. Two other men were murdered in the public streets lately. A row took place in Callowhill street—a man was nearly beaten to death and a woman rushed into the throng with a large knife in her hand. We cannot give even a summary of all oc-currences of this kind. In New-York they are not less frequent; and the newspapers in both cities are strenuously urging the civil authorities to more energetic action, in order to the prevention of crime, and the arrest and punishment of offenders. That some decisive steps must be taken is apparent. It would be well for the city authorities to inquire into the real, though probably not very direct causes af this decline of public morality. Are not the thea-tres, as at present constituted, with their attendant evils, great sources of public corruption? We are not opposed to a chaste drama, when the moral is good, and strongly enforced. But the public has been led on step by step, till fine sentiment and morality have lost their charm, and nothing but licentiousness has the power to please. Independently of the bad effects of the present state of the drama itself, there are other circumstances which render theatres highly improper. None but those who have witnessed, can form an opinion of a portion of theatrical attendants—the most base females of the city are admitted, ay indirectly invited .-- young men are drawn therehad associations corrupt them—the ultimate consequences are crime, imprisonment, and disgraceful death. - Wisconsin Democrat.

The Opaque Goose.—A Hibernian came into a lawyer's office the other day, and wanted to sell some opaque quills.

"Where do these opaque quills come from?" said the lawyer, who was in a quizzing mood.

"Where do they come from, is it ?" said the Irishman; why thin, maybe they come from the bird that bears them." "So I suppose," said the man of law, "but what bird may that be?,

"It's the goose, savin your honor's pre-sence," said the Pat, bowing low to the law-

" Aye, but what kind of goose ?" "The opaque goose, if you plase, such as they have in auld Ireland."

"I suppose you cant see through them at all then? "The devil a bit, more nor you can say

Finding that the subject only grew more and more opaque the more he handled it, the lawyer hastily purchased a bunch of the day morning, 23d inst., by the accidental discharge of his gun, whilst preparing to go on a shooting excursion. He has left a wife and two children.

Stages a Century and a half ago.—In the year 1763, when throughout Great Britain only six stage-coaches were constantly going, a pamphlet was written by one John Crasset, of the Charter House for their suppression, and among the many grave rea sons given against the continuance, is the following; -These stage-coaches make gen-tlemen come to London on every small occasion, which otherwise they would not do, but upon urgent necessity; nay, the convenience of the passage makes their wives often come up, who, rather than come such long journeys on horseback, would stay at home. Here, when they come to town, they must presently be in the mode, get fine clothes to go to the plays and treats; and by these means get such a habit of idleness and love of pleasure, that they are un-

It may be proper to state that the design of a Fair is to facilitate trade of all kinds. Those who attend bring stock or any that the design of a Fair is to facilitate trade of all kinds. Those who attend bring stock or any thing else they have to sell or exchange for other property; or, if they bring nothing they may wish to purchase of those who do bring something. It will be seen at once that it brings to gether, at one place, such commodities as are for sale in the country, as well as all the buyers and acceptance. TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.

GEO. W. SCHNABEL, bega leave to inform the public, that he continues to make up Cloth to order, as usual, at his Shop, on Water street, Constantine, where he will be happy to receive, and attend to all orders for work in his line of business.

Having made arrangements to receive the New-York and Paris FASHIONS, regularly, as soon as published, and from long experience in his business, he flatters himself that he will be able to give entire satisfication to those who may flavor him with their work.

He intends building a shop soon, for the purpose of enlarging his business, and keeping on hand a general assorment of READY MADE CLOTHING. From the more than liberal patronage which he has heretofore received from the citizens of Constantine, and adjacent country, and the rapid growth of this village, he feels confident in the belief, that any additions which he may make to his business, will be amply rewarded by the approbation and encouragement of the public.

CUTTING will be done in the latest style,

HEALTH.—BAILEY'S CHEMICAL COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, for purifying the blood, and removing all diseases arising from injudicious use of Mercury, exposures and imprudencies in life, Scrofula, Kings' Evil, White Swelling, diseases of the liver and skin, constitutional weakness, chronic and nervous affections, &c. &c. It has also been found a most useful spring and fall purifier of the blood. The rapidity with which cuire paties has sold, and the very flattering and state of its superior efficacy. The subjoined are among the communications in the hands of the proprietor:

In calling attention to the medical virtues of this colebrated plant, I would advert to the fact familiar with every physician, that a numerous class of diseases arise from that impure state of the blood, which this active remedial agent is so efficacious in purifying. The great importance attached by medical practitioners to the properties of the Sarsaparilla has engaged the attention of chemists, as to the mode of preparation in which it virtues can be most advantageously combined. Their experiments have resulted in the discovery that the CHEMICAL COMPOUND FLUID EXPRACT is decidedly superior to any other form in which it can be used. Since the introduction of the Fluid Extract, it has grown into rapid and extensive use, and its reputation is constantly inof the Fluid Extract, it has grown into rapid and extensive use, and its reputation is constantly in-creasing. We consider it one of the most valua-ble articles in the Materia Medica, and find a mable articles in the Materia Medica, and find a ma-terial advantage in the standard preparation of uniform strength which is obtained by the Fluid Extract. Its superiority over the Decoctions and Syrups sometimes made use of, is strikingly apparent. It obviates the necessity of preparing fresh decoctions every day; and does not surfeit and nauseate the stomach with the large proportion of sugar which has to be taken with each does of the syrup, and which renders it incapable of holding much of the pure extractive matter in solution.— One bottle of the Fluid Extract is fully equal to a gallon of the syrup, or the decoction as unsually gallon of the syrup, or the decoction, as usually prepared.

The virtues of this valuable medicine cann be too extensively known, as there is scarcely an individual who would not be benefitted by its use. The uniform testimony of medical men in its favor, and the great success which has attended its introduction, both in hospitals and private practice, is a convincing proof of its value, and of its superiority over other preparations of the Sarsaparilla.

MEDICUS. be too extensively known, as there is scarcely an orvice.

I consider it the neatest preparation of sarsa-parilla I have ever met with, and as such I unesitatingly give it my earnest reccommendation tice, is a convincing proof of its value, and of its superiority over other preparations of the Sarsaparilla.

MEDICUS.

Mr. C. C. Bristol.—Dear Sir: Please send me four dozen bottles Bailey's Compound Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla.

I cannot but express my highest sense of gratification in the result this excellent preparation has had in the cure of Cutaneous Diseases. In every case which has come under my practice, it has had the most complete success. Not one—even the most obstinate and long standing—but has received a permanent cure from this very excellent compound. In a section of country like this, where the principal diseases arise from a vitanted state of the blood, I think the introduction of your preparation will be of the most eminent service.

I consider it the neatest preparation of sarsaparilla I have ever met with, and as such I unhesitatingly give it my earnest reccommendation. CABINET WARE HOUSE, Ten
